

Media Monitoring for Reputation Management & Actionable Intelligence

In an age where discussions can quickly amplify – especially via social media – a real-time, enterprise-wide media monitoring system is needed, one that can keep your communications team on message and ahead of reputation issues. But the volume of data can be daunting, and many organizations aren't equipped to gather it, let alone analyze it to develop actionable business intelligence.

MediaVantage brings together print, radio, television, online and social media content into a Media Intelligence platform, where your team can collaborate on campaigns, monitor global media coverage of your brand and critical topics, and extract actionable insights with speed and ease.

Monitor Reputation & Key Issues Across Media

To ensure that your entire organization has the same, full view of the media landscape, MediaVantage provides broad monitoring across print, Internet, social media and blogs – with TV and radio available as add-on content sets. You will be able to identify developing trends and track results with customizable views, daily reports and email alerts.

- All-in-one view to monitor, review and analyze results in a single window.
- Monitor all public RSS feeds, microblogs and Tweets to stay up-to-speed on emerging discussions.
- Categorize tagged content and report on project, issues, or topic-specific coverage.
